Talks of Character

Dixon, salutatory, Hazel Hawkins; piano solo, Betty Warriner; Son of the Chattanooga, June Allner; song, Girls' Glee club; vocal solo, Harold Nelson; talk, Dan Williams; piano solo, John Murrie; presentation of American Legion awards by Arthur Mapelthorpe; presentation of attendance pins, W. To develop character one must keep busy. Surely no gangster over conceived ideas of killing and of other crimes while engaged in some legal occupation where he was kept busy."

Mr. Simpson brought out the strength of character portrayed by great leaders of history, and stressed the importance and the importance of building and possessing a good character.

Three Thousand See Fox Lake Boat Races

Three thousand persons witnessed the outdoor motor boat races held Memorial Day at Fox Lake by the Fox Lake Outboard Motor club and the Fox River Valley Power Boat association.

Most interesting and most exciting from the viewpoint of spectators was the Class D contest in which Ben Coler, Gary sportsman, suddenly shot in from the side, upsetting two other contestants. He then forged ahead and won the race.

Upsell, Oak Park, was winner of the second heat. He was scheduled to enter the first race but had trouble with his engine at the last minute.

John Maypole, who placed second in the first heat and third in the second heat was final winner on route.

Ray Progenzer, Antioch, was second place winner in the race.

In Class C, John Maypole, River Forest, was first; R. Estlick, Waukegan, second; and George Martin, South Bend, Indiana, third.

In the free-for-all, Upsell was winner; Coler was second, and Maypole, third.

These races are the first to be held this year. They are sanctioned by the Mississippi Power Boat association.

Man Poses As Agent of Paper; Swindler

Posing as a representative of THE ANTIOCH NEWS, a man giving his name as Jerry Moses visited Antioch Monday and Tuesday selling fake accident insurance policies.

The man, who sold his idea to many housewives of this community, was between 25 and 30 years old. He wore a dark suit and light felt hat. He was short, his face was thin, and he was dark complexioned. He was exceedingly talkative. He carried with him a paper which he said was a policy. The words, ANTIOCH NEWS, were stamped diagonally across the face. The insurance offered was against automobile accidents, accidents while at work, and accidents happening on the street. Two dollars cash—the price in full—was demanded for the piece of paper.

While newspapermen in nearby towns have been visited by men claiming to be insurance agents, it is not known if they were playing the game of the man who came to Antioch. Publishers of papers in Grayslake, Libertyville, and other communities are on the lookout for the men trying to obtain money under false pretenses.

Persons visited by agents who claim to be representing THE ANTIOCH NEWS, should call the office immediately.

PRIDE IS SAID CAUSE OF MOST SUFFERING

The Rev. H. Campbell Dixon Gives Baccalaureate Talk Sunday

"Pride is the source of nearly all sorrow and suffering," said the Rev. H. Campbell Dixon, pastor of St. Ignace church, when delivering the Antioch High school senior class baccalaureate address Sunday night in the school auditorium.

Rev. Dixon continued with an explanation that to know what one doesn't know is the true basis of real knowledge. He then showed how youth should try to develop the body, mind, and the spirit.

Music for the baccalaureate address was furnished by the high school chorus directed by Miss Hedvig Rice. The chorus sang the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah, and "All in an April Evening."

Father Daniel Frawley offered invocation.

Residents Learn House Numbers At Exhibit

Display of the street numbering chart for Antioch attracted most attention at the annual Antioch High school exhibit held Memorial Day. The chart was prepared and exhibited by the Civics department. Residents were told what their house numbers would be.

Sewing and cloth painting were exhibited by the home economics department; history books and maps by the history department; mounted pictures and water color paintings by the art department; and specimens of work from the bookkeeping, shorthand, mathematics, and other departments.

Commissioner Corrin Issues Building Permits

Three permits were issued by Building Commissioner Corrin yesterday. They included permit for St. Peter's church; William Girard, garage; and St. Clair Refining company for remodeling tank houses.

Other remodeling and small building jobs are in progress in the village, presumably costing less than one hundred dollars each, as no applications have been made for permits.

FARMERS OF LAKE AND KENOSHA COUNTIES ARE PLANNING PICNICS WITH GAMES, STUNTS, CONTESTS

Illinois Group to Meet on Model Farm 18th of This Month
Wisconsin Men Are to Hear Don Geyer at Outing the 15th

Plans are nearing completion for the big Farmers' Picnic, to be held Tuesday, June 18, at the Public Service company's model farm, jointly by the Lake County Farm bureau and the Lake County Pure Milk association.

Much interest is being displayed in the horse-pulling contest, according to H. A. Pfister, general chairman of the committee on arrangements, and H. C. Glickerson, farm adviser, who is handling the registration of the teams, has asked that all entries reach his office before Friday, June 14.

Professor Duffee, of the University of Wisconsin, and his two assistants, who will be the official judges of the horse pulling contest, have promised to have their "dynamometer" on hand for testing and recording the strength of the horses. Many farmers in this section who have seen similar contests say that the "dynamometer" adds much interest to the exhibition. The arrangement committee has announced that the owner of the winning team will receive a cash prize of $50. The other cash prizes will be awarded second and third winners.

Among other features of the day will be the championship horseshoe pitching contest, which will attract some of the best players in the county. E. Harris, chairman of the entertainment committee, states that the following experts at the game have already indicated that they will be present: Charles Bratzke, Joe Yore, Joe Atkinson and Tom Hoffmann.

Eddie Walkup, Waukegan's director of playgrounds, will be in charge of games, and his program calls for a variety of sports that will interest everyone at the picnic. A specially selected group of young women for the occasion by Mr. Walkup, will provide games and entertainment for the children.

To Settle Dispute
The farmers of the north and south have announced that a baseball game will settle an old dispute as to the progress of the two groups. Belvidere road will be dividing line of the county. The lineup for the two teams have not yet been announced, but it is in the hands of committees for each district. Ferdinand Knox is chairman of the committee which will lead the baseball forces of the North against the south, which is headed by Henry Pfister. The Ball Game will start at 10:00 a. m. prompt.

Arrangements have also been made for an old-time dance to be held in the evening at Dietz's Stables, with Chris Hupke furnishing the music.

High School Youths Are Awarded Medals For Farm Projects

Boys of Antioch Township High school Agricultural department each year are awarded medals by T. G. Rhoades, Sr., of the Chicago Footwear company, for the best farm project sponsored. Mr. Rhoades has made the awards for five years and plans to continue the practice, according to C. L. Kuttel, head of the agricultural department.

William Nielsen, a sophomore, is given first place for his garden project. He made a profit of $66.08 on one-sixth of an acre of garden.

Second place goes to Homer Edwards, a junior, who cleared $373.43 with a flock of white Wyandotte chickens.

Another junior, Lloyd Atwell, made $105.82 profit on raising a Guernsey dairy calf.

Judges were H. Minto, G. White, and H. Pfisterdorf.

Ten members of the Antioch chapter of the Masonic lodge went to Richmond Monday night to attend a Masonic meeting there.

Our School's Out, Goody, Goody, Gout

No more lessons, no more books, No more teachers' sassy looks. This was the chorus Antioch Grade school pupils sang Tuesday as they ran home from school with books under their arms. For school was over.

Some of the children—especially little girls—cried when they realized they would not see their teachers until September. Many of the children were sad for a minute or two, but all this sadness was replaced with joy—joy brought about by thinking of three months with nothing to do but play.

All grade school teachers, with the exception of Miss Ius Royal, fifth grade, will return. In the high school Miss Hedvig Rice is the only one not returning.

Among the speakers, Don V. Geyer, Field Manager for the Pure Milk company, will be the headliner of the day. He will address the audience on the present milk market situation and the status of the Pure Milk association. A. M. Kahl, also of the Pure Milk association, is another to give an address.

Besides the usual races and games a kitten ball contest between the six locals is planned. Other unusual attractions will be staged. There will be a special program for children. An orchestra is being hired to furnish music and songs for the day.

The Kenosha County Executive committee, headed by E. V. Ryall, in formal meeting with Mr. Kahl of the central offices last Friday appointed committees to prepare for the event. E. E. Powell, president of the Bristol Local, is in charge of the speaking program and in co-operation with B. J. Gilmore and the rest of the Bristol Local will prepare the program of games, stunts, concessions, etc. The Salem Local headed by Milner Hartnell, Willis Sheen and William Griffin is to have charge of all publicity.

The Bassetts and Silver Lake Locals under the leadership of John Kersting, Otto Schenning, Sylvester Epping and Ben Elverman, will have charge of the grounds, car parking, etc.

The Executive committee has asked that it be distinctively understood that the Pure Milk association is merely sponsoring the picnic, and that all farmers, or those interested in agriculture are invited.

PARADE AND PROGRAM ARE HELD IN ANTIOCH MEMORIAL AFTERNOON

Col. Smith Gives Talk At Cemetery Following Annual Procession

Although wars and their causes may be different, the courage and the hearts of the men who fight are still the same.

This thought formed the theme around which Col. Henry O. Smith, Chicago, built the address he delivered here Memorial Day. Mr. Smith spoke of the honor due the men who go to war and fight and of the credit and honor due persons who are at home helping the country.

INTEREST IN LAUNDRY GROWS; LARGE PART OF CAPITAL SUBSCRIBED

Business Not Experimental, Foth Declares; Is Optimistic

Experts at Helm, Is Plan

Sallent features of the laundry, dyeing and cleaning business and the advantages of having a home owned plant for the Chain O' Lakes region are set forth in a full-page announcement in colors in this edition of THE NEWS.

Headed by Clarence D. Foth as organizer, a group of Chain O' Lakes men seek to interest $50,000 capital to incorporate and establish a modern laundry and dry cleaning plant in this locality for the purpose of conserving a portion of the $100,000 business that leaves the community each year, and also to secure better, quicker service for the 11,000 permanent population and the 70,000 summer population of the Chain O' Lakes region.

Laundry Business Profitable
Rating the laundry business as one of the most profitable of the United States, the Chicago Daily News in edition of May 31, 1929, states that the increase in power laundry business from 1914 to 1928, inclusive, was 333 per cent and that the annual earnings on the gross turnover was 150 per cent. Boosters for the local plant are citing this and other data to prospective investors who wish to see the project become a reality.

Expect 50 Per Cent of Business
Calculations, pertaining to the amount of capital needed and the kind of equipment necessary to take care of a laundry and cleaning business, here, were based on but 50 per cent of the present business in the territory from the permanent residents. This business is expected to show a real profit on the $50,000 capital required for real estate, machinery and equipment, according to those who are backing the enterprise.

"The laundry business is not new," Mr. Foth said this morning. "No new product is to be marketed, and no demand for a service is to be created—the demand already exists, and a modern plant here will be prepared to it. It is planned to have the business under the supervision of an expert and his well-trained assistants from the very start, and there is to be no experimenting. Profits will start when the plant opens its doors for business."

New Size Currency
Is at Banks—Just to Look at—Don't Handle
Four new size currency notes, the $1 silver certificate, $2 United States note, $5 and $10 Federal reserve notes, have been distributed to National banks for exhibition purposes, and the First National Bank of Antioch, also Trust and Savings Bank of Lake Villa, are displaying the new currency. No other kinds of denominations will be available until the initial issue date, announced for July 10.

STOTT GIVES TALK TO 850 PERSONS WHO PACK SCHOOL

Orchestra Gives Concert Before Regular Program

GLEE CLUBS SING

Last night marked the close of public school life for 26 Antioch township young men and women who received their diplomas from Antioch Township High school before a crowd of 850 persons at the fourteenth annual commencement exercises.

All the formality and dignity that accompanies a university commencement marked the exercises last night. The stage was simply and beautifully decorated.

Before the program was started, the high school orchestra, directed by L. W. Petersen, played for half an hour before starting the professional march. Father Daniel Frawley offered the invocation. The Boys' Glee club sang "Goin' Home," Dvorak, and Cox's "Song of the Defenders."

Says to Forge Ahead
"Dying on Third" was the subject of the address given by Roscoe Gilmore Stott, nationally known chautauqua and lyceum lecturer.

Mr. Stott compared one's aim in life to the aim of the baseball player—telling of the player who never makes his goal, never gets home, who dies on third base.

Too many persons, the speaker said, never attain their goal but "die" along the way. He used many illustrations to strengthen points he made. The youth who will sacrifice to help others, who is not selfish in his ambitions, will not be apt to die on third, he declared. Mr. Stott urged the graduates to set a goal and work toward it in every way possible.

Diplomas Are Given

"Rest Thee on This Mossy Pillow," Smart, and "May-Day Song," Risber, were sung by the Girls' Glee club. Following these numbers Principal L. O. Bright presented diplomas to the following: Louise Simons, class president; Lloyd Murrie, vice-president; Martha Westlake, secretary; Herbert Folbrick, treasurer; Joe Anzinger, Elizabeth Barthel, Esther Barthel, Raymond Burnette, Ray Berglund, Arthur Danzell, Bernice Danzwell, Frances Dongwell, Lewis Galtger, Mary Galtger, Eathor Grulich, Frances Griffin, Clara Hailing, Arthur Hunter, Clarence Kufalk, Homer La Plant, Lloyd Murrie, Bertha Seabra, Eugene Sheehan, Esther Stearns, Irene Walsh, Charles Wertz, and William Steininger.

Chorus Sings
Rhodes medals were presented William Nelson, Homer Edwards, and Lloyd Atwell for carrying out the best and most profitable farm projects during the last year.

The program was ended with two numbers: "Legend," Pehalkovsky, and "Sylvia," Oley Speaks.

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

"Why on earth are you looking at all those little books?" Mrs. Ape asked her son, Johnny, the other morning.

"These books tell where to go for your vacation," Johnny explained as he buried his little round nose in a pretty green booklet.

"But, Johnny," Mrs. Ape said laughingly, "you don't think you can go every place described in those books, do you?"

"Sure," Johnny said. "You can read in here how to get to all the lakes and to the seashore and to the mountains."

"Even if you wanted to go all of those places, the summer isn't long enough," Johnny's mother explained. "Wouldn't you rather go to one place and stay a long time and have lots of fun, than to go several places and not be able to stay and get acquainted?"

Johnny studied a minute and said he believed he would.

"But I wouldn't know which one of the places to pick out," he said with a puzzled look.

Mrs. Ape told Johnny that she and Johnny's father had been talking of vacations and had been looking at the booklets.

She said: "We have decided which place we would like to go best of all. Now you decide where you think you would like it best."

Johnny looked at the books some more and exclaimed: "I know mother. I am sure I know which would be the best place of all! The mountains!"

Mrs. Ape told Johnny that the mountains would be the place where the Ape family would go for vacation, for that's where Mr. Ape, Mrs. Ape and Johnny all thought would be the best. In the mountain district, told about in the booklets were plenty of lakes, too.

"How soon will we go?" Johnny asked, and his mother told him she thought they could start next week.

"Whereeeee!" Johnny yelled. "I'm going to run out and tell all the other children." And away he flew. Of course, boys and girls, that doesn't mean that he flew in the air like birds do, it only means that he hurried away.

In a few minutes Johnny came back in the house looking sad. He didn't say a word. Mrs. Ape looked at him, then said:

"What on earth is wrong with you?"

"I was just thinking," Johnny explained, "how nice it would be if we could take Billy Monkey with us when we went on a vacation. Billy has a lot of brothers and sisters and his father is dead and he doesn't have any money and he can't go on a vacation."

Mrs. Ape placed her arm around her little boy's shoulder and said: "Well, dearest, I am glad you thought of Billy Monkey. I am glad you were unselfish enough not to think of your own pleasure." The she kissed Johnny and told him to run over to Billy's house and invite Billy on the vacation trip. And that's what Johnny did, and now everyone is busy planning to leave within a few days.

Aren't you anxious to hear about the trip?

Nature Lavishes Her Best On Lake Villa And Vicinity

Resident of Villages Say Their Community Is Second To None

Civic Pride Is Outstanding; Citizens Do Best To Make Homes Worthy of Settings Of Trees, Flowers and Shrubbery

VICINITY IS NOT INDUSTRIAL CENTER

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

SUMMER is almost here. Only a few days and the calendar will show that the summer months have come to the Chain O' Lakes. Summer with its call for the outdoors and the lakes.

Lake Villa is one of the most pleasing and most inviting communities in the Chain O' Lakes. Lake Villa and vicinity will satisfy one's love for the beautiful and will give the proper background for a summer or permanent home.

Lake Villa boasts many attractive homes—homes whose beauty is enhanced by trees, flowers, and shrubs. Bridal wreath at this time of the year edges many houses and lawns. Nowhere in the Chain O' Lakes can more birds be found. Orioles, robins, cardinals, bobolinks, and sparrows perch in the perkier manners on branches of spruce, pines, and shrubs.

Unusual Civic Pride

A village becomes a place of beauty when the home owners are graced with civic pride. Natural surroundings may be lovely, but touches added by man will make a community doubly brilliant in the eyes of tourists and guests.

In Lake Villa houses are silhouetted against transparent lake waters in the distance, and against an airy blue sky veiled in places with soft clouds. Through all the silver radiance diffused sunlight appears. In early morning, scenes along Cedar lake are formed with the delicate blue of the high heavens and the rose of dawn as a nucleus. The whole community fairly sparkles with life. Lake Villa is a place of which to be proud, and every resident seems to realize what an unusual small community is thriving along the shores of the Cedar.

All That Is Needed

Lake Villa people cannot publish pamphlets on industries there. They cannot boast of tremendous industrial wealth. But they can look at the world and shout the glories of nature and the wonderful home atmosphere.

WHO COULD ASK FOR MORE?

ALLEDALE BOYS SING PRAISES AT CHAPEL HOURS EACH SUNDAY

"He leadeth me, He leadeth me, By His own hand He leadeth me—" Thus sang the boys of Alledale school, Lake Villa, at the chapel services last Sunday afternoon. They sang with a world of meaning and expression. There was no mumbling of words, there was no dragging, no shuffling of music such as one hears in the average church congregation. The boys were truly "lifting their voices in praise." Captain Edward L. Bradley, founder of the school, was at the organ.

The chapel is beautiful in its majestic simplicity. Rays of sunlight breaking through the stained glassed window panes flood the church with light. Ivy growing over the windows gives a shadowy, mottled effect.

Last Sunday the boys listened to the Rev. Bennett speak. Mr. Bennett's talk was appealing to the boys. They listened eagerly, their faces registering their interest. They heard how each of them has a special task to perform in the world—how each must make the most of his life.

And at Alledale, under the careful guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, the boys are preparing to make the most of their lives. There 100 boys, many of whom have been deprived the advantage of home with a parental care, are realizing what true home life is like. The boys live in cottages as happy, congenial families. Every angle of their lives is developed—the spiritual, the physical and the moral.

MOTHERS DISCUSS COMMON PROBLEMS

DISCUSSION of problems confronting all mothers, features each meeting of the Lake Villa Mother's club. Mrs. Sheridan Burnett is president of the organization. "As there is no Parent-Teacher association in the village, the Mother's club deals with many questions often treated by the P. T. A."

YES, OLD Eagle Eye went visiting this week—went to Lake Villa. Had lots of fun. Met people and did things.

Funniest thing happened, though, about 11 o'clock. Just as Old Eagle Eye was going by a field, a cow started to bawl. Oh, what a bawl it was! It was terrible. Sounded so much like the Antioch fire whistle which blows at noon that Eagle Eye put pen, pencil, and notebook away in a hurry. Thought it was quitting time. Oh, what mockery to turn around, see the cow grinning, and realize that this was Lake Villa.

Everyone in Lake Villa seems imbued with the theoretical "southern hospitality." Everyone was so kind. One could easily imagine Mrs. C. B. Hamlin hostess on a large southern plantation. Her manner is charming and gracious. She is one of the most active women of the village in civic and church affairs. For years she has been Lake Villa news correspondent for THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dicks are hospitable, too. Eagle Eye, when greeted by Mr. Dicks, was invited to "come eat a bite." Mrs. Dicks came into the room in a minute, and she, too, insisted that the Dicks table welcome guests. The lawn around the Dicks home is beautiful, and the many deciduous and evergreen trees make happy retreats for birds.

Near the corner of the street on which Mrs. C. B. Hamlin lives, a little girl was playing the other day. She said her name was Jean—but her last name, she mumbled. Jean, dressed in a blue bloomer-dress, was busy, extremely so, when approached. "Do you know where Mrs. Hamlin lives?" the child, who is about four years, was asked. "Sure," was the reply. And she gave directions. But directions meant nothing to Jean. She was having skate trouble.

Down the street from Jean lives Johnnie. Johnnie doesn't tell people—especially strangers—his last name, but he does tell them he has an auto, a scooter, a tricycle, and lots of playthings as well as a big apple tree under which to play. Johnnie lives almost across from the school. Friday morning he was laboring with his automobile, as hard as ever a four-year-old boy could labor. "Old thing's broke," he said. "Guess I'll have to take it to the garage."

One of the most optimistic persons encountered in Lake Villa was Mrs. B. J. Hooper. Eagle Eye, eager for information, fired questions at Mrs. Hooper—so many questions that the "patience of a saint" would have been tried. But Mrs. Hooper was pleasant, gave all of the information requested, and even advanced some bits of worth-while news. Mr. Hooper, too, was obliging.

Did it ever occur to you how much Jim Atwell looks like John Greenleaf Whittier, the poet? Whiskers, nose, eyes, and general expression of Mr. Atwell are similar to those found in pictures of the poet.

Harry Stratton, supervisor of Lake Villa.

PROMOTION PROGRAM FOR EIGHTH GRADE IS HELD IN GURNEE

Lake Villa School This Year Attains Goal To Be Superior

COMMENCEMENT exercises for eighth grade graduates of Lake Villa school were held in connection with the Round Lake and Gurnee schools in the Warren Township High school auditorium.

Lake Villa school activities this year were centered about the aim and accomplishment of becoming a Superior school. State Superintendent of Education F. G. Blair spoke at the dedicatory exercises held this spring.

Qualifications Are Many

To become a Superior school, many requirements must be met. Lighting, ventilation, and heating must be far above the average. Rooms must not be crowded—25 pupils to the room is about the limit. Teaching must be superior and up-to-date. The attitude of the child toward the school and toward his work must be superior. That is, the children as a group should have a co-operative spirit.

There must be adequate playgrounds and equipment. The community must work with the teachers and the pupils, and must express a desire to co-operate.

Teach Different Subjects

The Lake Villa school faculty is composed of Elmer Beckwith, principal; Miss Mable Scott, Miss Ruby Falch, and Miss Norma Schora. Miss Falch, in addition to her regular classroom work, has been teaching penmanship in the first four grades. Writing has been given special stress in the upper grades by Mr. Beckwith. Miss Schora has been teaching art in all the rooms, and Miss Scott has been the music instructor.

The board of education is composed of F. M. Hamlin, president; Albert Kappeler, clerk, and B. J. Hooper.

Modern Throughout

The Lake Villa school building is more than four walls and a roof. The interior shows careful planning and arrangement and the result of good taste. There are ample store rooms for teachers' and janitors' supplies. Each room has its own cloak room and toilet.

The decorating in the corridors and in the rooms is effective, the lower parts of the walls, by dating, have been made to have the appearance of marble.

For the Tourist.—You'll find a complete supply of camping equipment at Gamble Stores, 9½ x 9½ Waterproof Umbrella Tent, complete with floor $19.95. 5520 6th ave., Kenosha.

Villa town, was accommodating. He offered the services of his car, thus saving Eagle Eye a long walk, and he also gave information asked for about the town. Mr. Stratton is serving his eighth year as supervisor. Seems to run in the Stratton family to be politicians, doesn't it?

One of the busy persons around Lake Villa is Mrs. Zen Zener of the telephone exchange. The exchange is housed in a small building on Main street across from Reinebach's store.

Women Write Rhymes And Have Good Times

"Poetical times" are being enjoyed by women of the Lake Villa Ladies' Aid society.

Incompleted limericks are mailed to the women, who are asked to write last lines, and bring with 10 cents to a certain place where a luncheon or afternoon sewing meeting is to be held. The money is used for the society's projects.

Jim Atwell and His Wife Recall Lotus Bed Trips, Fishing Jaunts and Mirth-Provoking Experiences

SOME men and some women are "just people." People who have no outstanding characteristics. People who lack strong personalities. People who are not "types."

But Mr. and Mrs. James Atwell (Jim Atwell sounds more familiar, doesn't it?) of Lake Villa are types. Individually, each is a striking character. Together they are an interesting couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwell have lived in Lake Villa for the last 27 years—longer than any other residents of the village excepting the Sherwood family. The home in which they live is in the heart of the community, and is attractive, cool, and inviting. The lawn is large, shaded by towering trees.

Things Are Different

Mr. and Mrs. Atwell tell how Lake Villa settlers started to build the community on the road where the church is now located. Within a short time, however, the few buildings were moved to the present Main street.

"And now every once in a while you hear talk about moving the town to route 21," Mrs. Atwell laughed.

Mr. Atwell explained that 27 years ago there were only two children on the street, but today the place is running over with kids," he added. Some of them pretty bright youngsters, too, he said.

Tourists first started to develop the vicinity of Lake Villa as a summer resort 25 or 30 years ago, the Atwells recall.

"It's a fact," Mrs. Atwell said, "that before we moved to Lake Villa we lived on a farm, our home situated only a half a mile from the lake, and we never a bit more thought of the water than anything. Lake might just as well have not been there! And here now-days people get in their cars and drive for miles and miles to get to the water."

Don't Quite Agree

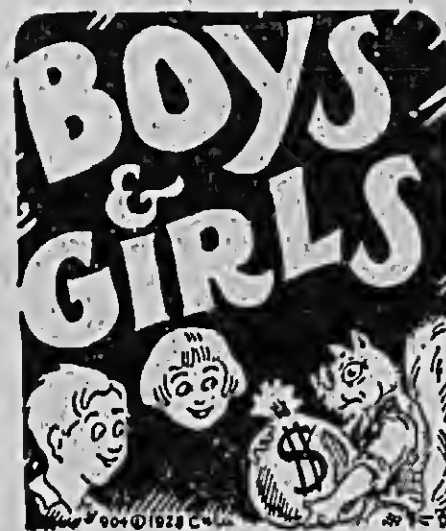

Mrs. Atwell reflected a moment, then asked: "Why is it we never fully appreciate things and persons about us?"

Mr. and Mrs. Atwell didn't quite agree about one thing at first. It happened this way: the two were asked if they had gone fishing much. At the same time—at the very same second, Mr. Atwell said "yes," and Mrs. Atwell said, "no." Both were speaking the truth, for they hadn't gone much together, and Mrs. Atwell hadn't gone much alone, but Mr. Atwell has gone a great deal. When (Continued on page 5)

ROESCHLEIN-VOS WEDDING SOLEMNIZED YESTERDAY

Simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Louise Roeschlein, Chicago, and Edward Vos, Antioch, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Daniel Frawley in St. Peter's rectory. The only attendants were Miss Dorothy Roeschlein, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Joe Heuler as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip.

Called home by the death of her brother, Miss Isabelle Harwood, sixth grade teacher, left for Bloomington Sunday night. Miss Harwood is to return in September.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Beebe left Monday morning for Rochester, Minnesota, where Mrs. Beebe will take treatment at Mayo Brothers.

FIFTH GRADE PUPILS ARE GIVEN PENNANT

Meeting Health Requirements Win Honor For Antioch Scholars

Fulfilling health requirements each day for 12 weeks has won for the fifth grade pupils of the Antioch Grade school, a large pennant awarded by the Illinois State Department of Health, tuberculosis department.

Miss Ius Royal, teacher, said that there was only one pennant awarded in Lake county last year, and the one won by the local boys and girls will probably be the only one earned in this district this year.

Jim Atwell and Wife Recall Old Jaunts

discussing fishing, Mrs. Atwell started to laugh.

"Eel is Teaser—So's Jim"

"Remember," she asked turning to her husband, "the time you went fishing with the man down at some run—the time the fish were so thick?"

Mr. Atwell laughed, too.

"Of course I remember," he said.

"And I know what you are thinking about—the time, oh! who was it? ran out of pails to put his fish in—"

"—and took off his pants, tied the legs at the bottom and filled them with fish," Mrs. Atwell interrupted and concluded.

Addressing her husband, she went on: "And I remember the time you brought an eel in with your fish and you let it out on the kitchen floor to tease me. Remember?"

Mr. Atwell used to like to spear fish at night, using a torch, looking to the bottom of the lake, and then getting the fish.

"There aren't so many fish anymore," he said.

"But goodness me, what strings everyone used to get!" Mrs. Atwell exclaimed.

Took Excursion Trips

Twenty-five and thirty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Atwell, with two or three other couples, used to go on steam boat excursion trips on Fox lake, going to Grass Lake where there were rowboats to take persons to the Lotus beds.

"No one was careful of the flowers," Mrs. Atwell said. "People took away the blossoms in wagon-loads, and when automobiles came into use, it was a common sight to see seats filled with the flowers."

Antioch was mentioned, and Mrs. Atwell said that Antioch was progressing more rapidly than Lake Villa—had made more headway.

"Ought to," Mr. Atwell hastened to say, all his civic pride swelling within him. "Antioch's older."

Mrs. Atwell explained that she didn't mean she would rather live in Antioch, but woman-like she had the last say on the question:

"But it does seem to grow more."

No. 21

Published in the interest of the people of Antioch and vicinity by H. R. Adams Lumber Co. H. R. Adams, Editor. Rex Bonser, Mgr.

We notice with some interest a scientific note in a New York paper to the effect that if the earth were flattened, the sea would be two miles deep all over the earth. If any man is caught flattening the earth, shoot him on the spot. There are a whole lot of us in this state that can't swim.

It's a funny thing, but the man who spends most of his time with his hands in his pockets has the least in them.

A home of your own is the finest of all investments.

Last Tuesday was a big day in Antioch, for the pupils of the grade school at least. Did you notice the spring in their step and the smile on their face? It was the last day of school. Can you blame them for being happy?

We know that you would like to forget about it for a while, but we can't help remind you that coal is lower in price right now than at any other time of the year. Fill your bins now and rest easy.

Did you know that—England, Ireland and Scotland, taken together, are smaller than the state of New Mexico?

We see by the papers that every time a dollar bill changes hands it hits a filling station.

Teacher: "Robert, what is a niche in a church?" Robert: "It is the same as an itch any where else, only you can't scratch it as well."

Just because they call it guerilla war in Mexico doesn't mean that it is all monkey business.

Just got in a fresh line of MULE-HIDE root cement and caulking. Best thing in the world to stop those little leaks in your roof.

We were somewhat amazed at the rapidity in which the gas people tore up the sidewalks along Main street, but we venture to say that Hans Johnson and his helpers didn't let any grass grow before they had them down again.

Why take life so seriously? You'll never get out of it alive.

"I jumped. The coat caught.... but it held me!"

Jesse Gilbert of Champaign, Ill., unintentionally tested the real strength of an Oshkosh B'Gosh Overall. "To avoid delay to a perishable train following," he writes, "I had gone out on the pilot to throw the switch to head in. As I jumped my jacket slipped over the flagstaff. With a terrific jerk I stopped in midair, neither hands or feet touching anything. Had the coat ripped, no telling where I would have fallen but I escaped unhurt."

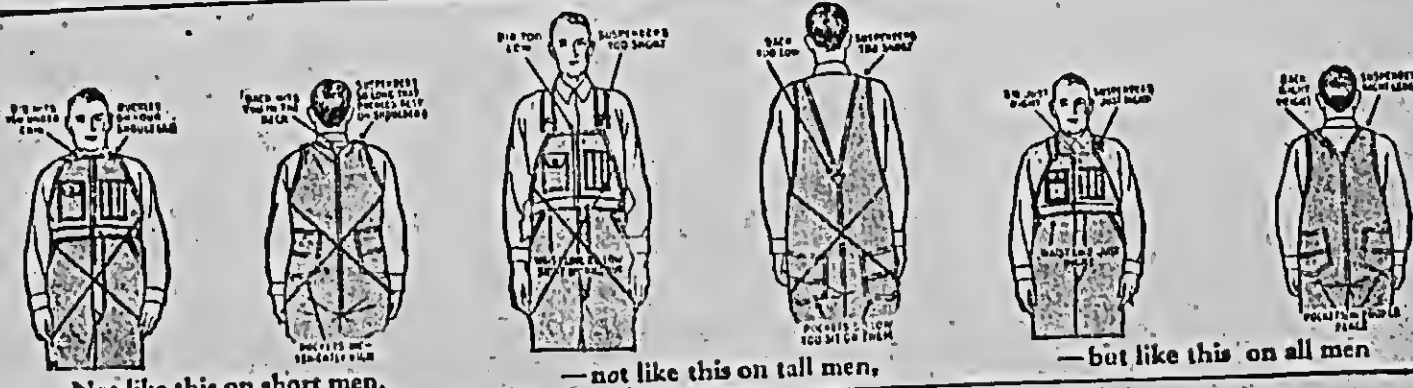

Ira V. Holmes of Evansville, Ind., had exactly the same experience. He had burnt a hole in the back of his coat a month before. He, too, was out on the pilot waiting to jump off to throw a switch. Being a warm day he had the coat outside his overall and the flagstaff slipped through this hole. He jumped, was stopped in mid-air and he writes, "My weight did not even tear the hole any bigger."

These are spectacular demonstrations of the strength of Oshkosh B'Gosh overalls. The extreme toughness of this specially woven cloth means longer wear. Actually it costs LESS to wear Oshkosh B'Gosh and you get the added comfort of a real full-cut overall.

TAILORED-TO-FIT

No more cutting overalls from one pattern. Each leg length and each waist size has separately designed patterns. It costs more to make them this way, but whether you are tall or short or medium you are sure of a perfect fit.

GIVE FATHER SOME CREDIT

Mother's Day came during the last month. News papers, churches, schools, homes and business houses in some way observed Mother's Day and honored Mother. Next Sunday is Father's Day throughout the nation. This observance is not so old, nor is it so well-known, but each year more stress is laid on this occasion.

And why not? Aren't Fathers as deserving of credit as Mothers? Boys, especially, look to their father for guidance. It is Mother who kisses the smashed finger and makes it "all well," but it is Father who fixes the toy automobile, the broken skate, and the train that won't run. It's Father who first agrees with his small son that hopped hair is "slay" and that a shingle must be gotten at once. It's Father who tells stories of wonderful horses, large ships, and roaring lions. Father likes to talk about airplanes and goes outdoors and plays ball—all kinds of ball, football, baseball, and even basketball. Father buys ponies and dogs—things which Mother would probably just as soon not have around. Father thinks maybe an extra piece of candy wouldn't do any harm. Somehow, Father thinks a whole lot more like the small boy than does the Mother. Maybe Father's reasoning isn't so good from the "blue book" viewpoint. Maybe the extra piece of candy will make the child ill, but oh! how a boy likes to remember things which he and his father have done. How well a boy likes to know that he is understood.

Father shoulders business worries but he never tells his troubles at home. He smiles no matter how heavy his heart may be. It is he who earns the money to support the family.

Father! Isn't it about time that more attention be given him?

RAILROADS REDUCE ACCIDENTS

Within the last 10 years the number of persons killed on railway property, owing to conditions within railroad control, has been reduced 61 per cent. In contrast to this, grade crossing accidents have materially increased.

It has been repeatedly held that railroads are not responsible for accidents due to persons crossing their tracks. Every effort has been made to protect the public. And the motorist who fails to investigate before venturing across tracks or attempts to race trains, must do so on his own responsibility.

The futility of trying to force the railroads to remove grade crossings is shown by recent records. Tremendous amounts have been spent for this purpose. Yet in 1927, the last year for which official statistics are available grade crossings increased 552, due to the construction of new highways and streets across railroad property.

In every phase of the accident menace over which the railroads have control, improvement has been made. Under circumstances where control is within the jurisdiction of the public accidents have increased. Clearly, the railroads are creditably discharging their share of the responsibility and the rest is up to the people.

CONTINUE OUR PROTECTIVE POLICY

President Hoover's stand on the tariff, that duties shall be kept as low as is compatible with our protective policy, should meet the approval of American farmers, manufacturers and workers.

Upward tariff revision to the point that would prohibit imports from Europe would be determined to ourselves as well as the old world. Our tariff need is for an equalizer, that will offset, in favor of American producers, the natural advantages of cheap labor and low production cost possessed by foreign competitors.

At the present time our tariff seems imperfect in certain provisions. Sugar, for instance, is taxed so low that American producers are in danger of being forced out of production. Such discrepancies as this must be ironed out, and the benefit of protection given to all industries. American citizens, in all walks of life, are learning that our tariff principle is our best insurance for a progressive and prosperous future.

local club, and as these involve such things as individual project work, exhibits, games, programs, awards, etc., it requires a high type of leadership to make the work a success.

Two of Kenosha county's 4-H club leaders, Miss Mildred Gilmore, Bristol, and George B. Price, Jr., Somers, were listed among the best in the state last year, and others have been so listed other years.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Krahl were in Antioch Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Boden and sons, Jimmie and Johnnie, Athens, Ohio, will arrive tomorrow to spend the end of the week with their daughter, Miss V. Laidel Boden. Johnnie Boden will remain for the summer months.

Urbana, June 6—Flies and hot weather no longer can be blamed for the sharp midsummer drop in the milk yield of Illinois dairy cows, according to Dr. W. H. Nevena, assistant chief in dairy cattle feeding at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Experiments have traced the chief cause of the slump in production to a lack of feed and particularly a lack of enough protein in the feed, he said.

"Good pasture grass is the best feed for milk production, but pasture alone is not enough for cows giving large amounts of milk. Hence if they are not supplied with some grains, such cows are likely to lose weight rapidly. Early in the spring grass is high in protein, but as it ripens the proportion of protein becomes less."

"Good feeders therefore supply their best cows with grain throughout the pasture season. In early spring, a mixture of ground corn and oats is satisfactory, but as soon as the grass begins to ripen, a mixture containing from 14 to 16 per cent total protein is necessary. If there is no clover, alfalfa or other legume in the pasture, then still more protein is necessary when the grass becomes fully ripe. At this stage the grain mixture must contain 16 to 20 per cent total protein."

"A simple mixture containing about 15 per cent total protein may consist of 150 pounds linseed oil meal or ground soybeans, 450 pounds of ground corn and 400 pounds of ground oats. A similar mixture might be 200 pounds linseed oil meal or ground soybeans, 600 pounds corn and cob meal and 200 pounds wheat bran."

"Liberal feeding during the pasture season helps not only to maintain the milk flow at a high level but also to keep the cows in much better flesh so that they are in good condition to produce milk when the barn feeding begins."

ART AND HAND WORK
FEATURE OF EXHIBIT
AT ANTIOCH SCHOOL

Bright Spots of Routine
Courses Are Also Revealed
By Pupils.

Art and nature study work, as well as things accomplished in regular classes, featured the exhibits at the Antioch Grade school Friday night. Two hundred parents and friends of the children attended.

Specimens of penmanship displayed in the eighth grade showed the improvements made by the pupils during the last two years. Holders of improvement certificates are: John Murrie, William Waters, Betty Warner, Billy Brook, Dorothy Musch, Margaret Sullivan, Lillian Vykuta, June Allner, Estelle Lukas, Hazel Hawkins, Harold Nelson, Donald Snyder, Bernice Rich, Marjorie Singer, Wilma Musch, and Eileen Osmond.

Cover Is Modernistic

Pupils of the eighth grade have collected and mounted specimens of wild flowers, grasses and various kinds of vegetation. Some of the mountings are on posters and some are in book form. Much originality is expressed in the make-up of the books. W. C. Petty is eighth grade teacher.

Miss Dorothy Patterson's pupils have compiled a scrap book of events of the winter. The cover of the book is of futuristic design. There are sections of world news, poetry, school news, sports and aviation. The book is 22 by 18 inches and contains 200 pages.

Make Real Bird Houses

The medieval castle made this winter by the sixth grade pupils under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Isabelle Harwood, was on display. The castle is the most elaborate project undertaken in the Antioch Grade school this year.

Clarence Verkest, Francis Verkest, Donald Hackett, and Kenneth Mortensen, of the fifth grade, had birdhouses on display. The houses were of different types, planned and made by the boys. Donald Hackett also had a painting, framed, on exhibition. Julius Petersen had made a flower box. Miss Ius Royal is fifth grade teacher.

Atmosphere of Holland

Displays in Miss Mary Hynek's fourth grade consisted mostly of examination papers, language work, and notebooks.

Pupils of Miss Julia Strickler, in the third grade, had examples of clay modeling. One table centered about Holland, a country which the children have been studying. There were wooden shoes, windmills, a large vase of tulips, and Dutch figures. Shells, flowers, and composition work were also on display.

Must Eat Correctly

"Drink Milk and Hide Here," "Free Rides to Vegetable Users," and "We Fly Gears" were among the signs on the Health Circus grounds displayed by Miss Betty Tonton's second grade boys and girls. Miniature ferris wheels, planes, and merry-go-rounds had been erected—all to be used only by boys and girls who follow health rules.

Mounted dandelions, booklets on "My Home," and various kinds of hand-work were exhibited by the pupils of the first grade, of which Mrs. Fern Lux is teacher.

Miss Sibyl D'Armond returned Saturday from a vacation trip of 10 days spent at her home in Albany, Indiana, and at the home of her aunt, in Muncie, Indiana.

Friday afternoon Marjorie Singer was wheeling her baby brother in his carriage. She went into Rowling's and left the carriage outside. Contrary to her belief, the baby buggy was not "securely parked," and so started rolling down the street. Women down the street saw the carriage coming but did not know if they would be able to stop it. Just then the carriage hit a telephone post and stopped. The women, rushing to the scene, found the baby calmly chewing a pacifier, just as though nothing had happened. All of which proves the adage: what you don't know won't hurt you.

Memorial Day was brought to a close in grand style by four Antioch children. About 9 o'clock at night, Dean Williams, Roger Williams, Jack Panowski, and Virginia Norman went parading and serenading. Good outfit, too, dressed as Indians and what-not. Dean Williams played real music on the accordion. Jack and Roger took turns playing the mandolin, and Virginia Norman was the flag bearer. A mouth organ was in the crowd, too. The children walked down the main drag, then seated themselves on front of the fire engine house. Persons passing by in cars heard the music and stopped, to say nothing of the pedestrians who gathered around.

If American Legion members in Antioch start showing signs of gray hair, don't be alarmed. There's a reason for such signs of distress. Take Memorial Day, for instance. Some of the people to town just didn't put up their flags, so the ex-service men had to remind said business people of negligence. That part of the story isn't so bad. But listen! Poor Archie Maplethorpe had to go down Main street after dark Memorial night and remind seven leading business men of the community that flags were not to be displayed after sundown. The flag for the Methodist church couldn't be found, so a

4-H CLUB LEADERS

Luncheon With Kiwanis
Men Feature Program
Held Today

Kenosha county's 4-H club leaders held the annual conference at the court house in Kenosha today. T. E. Bewick, State 4-H club leader, was in charge of the meeting.

At noon the leaders were the guests of the Kiwanis club at the regular meeting where Mr. Bewick delivered the address of the day.

Twenty-five club leaders, assistant club leaders and project leaders took part in this conference. All phases and problems of club work were open for discussion. All Kenosha County 4-H clubs have local leaders and it is the energy and unselfish work of these leaders that has made the 4-H club movement so highly successful in Kenosha county. The leader working with the officers and members of the club directs the activities of the small banner waved from the big pole. Well, maybe things will go better the Fourth of July.

Speaking of Memorial Day reminds us of Paul Chase. Did you notice how busy he was the day of the parade? He's commander of the local Legion post and he had a lot to look after. Takes pride in his work, too, and he got things off in good shape.

It's most amusing to think how many people were attracted by the monkeys at the Crystal theatre Friday night. One woman remarked how "perfectly adorable and cunning" the little things were. Yet—how people hate to think they're descended from such animals. It is all in the way one looks at a thing, we guess.

You can depend on either of these two motor oils to lubricate your car as it needs to be lubricated. They are both sturdy, rich oils.

Because they are sturdy they will hold up under the trying conditions of country driving.

Because they are rich they will keep a cushioning film over every bearing surface.

ISO=VIS, the most sensational advance in motor oil, maintains a constant body—wears and wears and WEARS, lubricating at highest efficiency all the time. Many motorists run 1000 miles and more without draining the crankcase.

Polarine needs no introduction—for 20 years this dependable motor oil has been giving satisfactory service in millions of cars.
If you want dependable lubrication for the least money, buy Polarine and drain the crankcase every 500 miles.

"Doubting Thomases" are the rust on the machinery of disastrous reaction—they're always going backward—seemingly unconscious of the fact that the world is going forward.

The United States has a population equivalent to 24,000,000 families. Approximately one-third of this vast number furnishes an industry with a volume of business far in excess of one billion annually.

Chain O' Lakes has a population of about 11,000 permanent residents, and a semi-resident population of approximately 70,000. There is not one modern industry to conserve a portion of the $1,000,000,000 annual business and keep the benefits where created.

Clarence D. Foth, a business man of Antioch, after viewing the situation cautiously for some time, has determined to stop the major portion of a moderate fortune being shipped out of the territory each year. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED.

Experts were retained who have compiled facts and figures concerning the Laundry, Dyeing, and Cleaning industries —facts that are startling in importance—THEY ARE YOURS FOR THE ASKING! Believing that our Chain O' Lakes people are looking for something better than the ordinary class of investments—something able to earn generous profits without undue risks—something that merits the backing of everyone—something that has not only a Future, but a Present, CONSIDER THESE

TWELVE SALIENT FEATURES

1. $100,000 average business each year is being shipped out of the CHAIN O' LAKES.
2. $50,000 in modern plant, machinery equipment, and working capital will conserve this, showing a handsome return each year.
3. Calculations are based on but 50 per cent of the present Laundry and Cleaning business in the territory from the permanent residents.
4. A Laundry equipped to serve the permanent population could operate two shifts a day to take care of the summer business, thus doing away with over equipment.
5. Water in abundance and of a quality has been located, analyzed, and found to be of the best in the state.
6. Means of getting rid of waste water, both suds and rinsing, are ideal in the location selected. These things are by all means the most important factors in a highly efficient Laundry, Dyeing, and Cleaning business.
7. Efficient management under the supervision of a well-trained man and his assistants would assure at all times the best of workmanship at NO GREATER COST and ONE DAY SERVICE.
8. Great savings have been effected by the employment of experts in the selection of real estate building, machinery, equipment, and organization work.
9. No commissions are paid for sale of stock on the proposed CHAIN O' LAKES Laundry, Dyeing, and Cleaning company.
10. Moneys are deposited in bank to completion of organization and incorporation, and will be used for real estate, building, machinery, equipment expenses, etc.
11. A Laundry, Dyeing, and Cleaning equipment of smaller proportions costs nearly as much to install and about the same to manage and handle, with but a fraction of the net returns on the investment. SECURE THE COMPARISONS.
12. The soundness of the project is the fact that it is not untried and everyone can patronize it. The facts and their proofs are from national, machinery, and engineering authorities.

School Closes

Fox Lake school closed Tuesday evening. A large crowd gathered to witness the closing exercises. The playlet "Sally Ann Finds Herself" was well presented by the children of the eighth grade. Several songs were sung. L. O. Bright, principal of Antioch High school, gave the address of the evening. His topic centered around the play. He tried to show the children that the best way of life is to lean upon one's own integrity, not wait for some one else to do things but get out and hustle and be first. After the close of the play, Miss Ella Dobrien announced the names of the graduates and said that Geraldine Brester ranked highest in school with Helen Elter second.

FIRE DOES DAMAGES OF $20,000 FRIDAY ON BRISTOL FARM

Barns, Silo, and Several Smaller Buildings Are Destroyed

By Mrs. Nettie Gethen

All barns and nearly all the out-buildings on the Eldora Horton farm in Southeast Bristol (formerly known as the John Hollenbeck place) burned to the ground Friday morning. The fire was first seen by a motor cop on the Geneva road, and he was the first to arrive to the scene. Mrs. Horton was the first member of the family to become aroused and sounded the alarm to the other members of the house. A rush to the horse barn, in which the fire originated, saved the lives of the horses. The flames at once spread at such a rapid pace that

Who gets the extra mileage -- you or friction?

Friction does not wait to take the last ten or twenty thousand miles. If the lubricant in your engine does not have sufficient body—friction breaks thru. Wear occurs. Mileage, in terms of motor life, is lost forever.

"Use a heavier oil," you say? Not necessarily. If motor oil body is too heavy—even slightly so—friction sets up an "oil-drag." Result: Loss of power and pick-up... Decreased efficiency and responsiveness... Gasoline mileage greatly lessened—as much as 20 per cent in some cases.

In developing the correct grade of Shell Motor Oil for every car, Shell engineers took these and many other factors into account. That is why thousands of automobile owners are finding in Shell Motor Oil that fine balance of qualities which insures proper lubrication.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil confidently depend on it to provide ideal body throughout the full range of operating temperatures... to retain its lubricating qualities under long and grueling service... to finish the 500th mile as fit and fresh as it started the first.

Shell Motor Oil has stamina... courage... a fighting heart. It won't break down. Forming a perfect fluid seal between piston ring and cylinder wall, Shell Motor Oil helps retain power and compression. —Adds improved efficiency to proper lubrication.

Shell Motor Oil is today's outstanding contribution to the science of automobile lubrication. Only Nature's richest lubricating crude forms the base of Shell. Shell-developed, low-temperature refining prepares this virgin stock for use... gives it the body and stamina which have never lost a battle to heat and friction. And before it reaches you, it must pass 259 relentless tests which check and certify the rich, unvarying quality of every quart.

"ASTOUNDING—THAT IS WHAT I SAY OF NEW KONJOLA"

Grateful Man Relates How Famous Medicine Quickly Ended Stomach Trouble of Severe Nature

MR. JACK HANNERS

"Astounding, that is what I say of this new Konjola," said Mr. Jack Hanners, 785 North Second Street, Rockford, Illinois. "I suffered intensely from stomach trouble. It was impossible to eat a meal without suffering terribly. Food seemed to form a heavy, sodden mass in my stomach, and indigestion and gas bloating followed my meals. I was very discouraged, because no medicine today, I am well and happy again, since that I tried gave me relief."

"But it was different with Konjola enjoying the glorious health of youth. I eat three hearty meals a day, enjoy them, and gain nourishment, strength and energy. My stomach never causes the least bit of suffering. Now I know why Konjola has earned the reputation of being the medicine with more than a million friends."

Konjola is sold in Antioch at S. H. Reeves' drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns, throughout this entire section.
